

OpenControl Symposium

A Virtual iSymposium

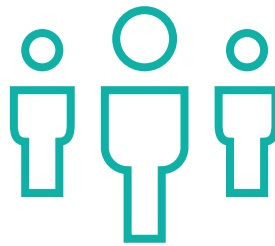

The OpenControl Symposium will center around understanding the OpenControl framework for automating compliance. In close collaboration with 18F, a Federal government agency, GovReady, and other industry partners, this virtual symposium will bring together thought leaders to introduce the idea of automated compliance and to show the recent related developments taking place within the open-source community under the OpenControl project.

We invite all technologists, government staff, contractors, and others in related, regulated fields that are interested in learning about aligning security assessments and authorization with modern, continuous software development and delivery practices.

When?

October 20, 2016
10:00AM Eastern Time
(US and Canada)

Who?

Technologists
Security Experts
Compliance Experts

Where?

Virtual / Online
(open-control.org)

Register at <https://zoom.us/meeting/register/395a70acf379371a66858a512be5123a>

Learn more at <http://open-control.org/>
Logistics will be communicated via email, after your registration is received.